Giving Your House a New Spring Hat and Coat.

There is a new way of fixing a leaky roof, less expensive, easier to do, and warmer. RE-ROOFING a house always before meant the removal of all the old shingles, a clutter of shingles around the house.

The New Way is to put shingles right over the old roof. We can give you helpful suggestions on how to re-shingle your roof, re-siding or shingling over the present siding on your home.

Ill-health Leads to Suicide.

A gruesome discovery was made by Constable Hammick of the A.P.P. on Monday, when acting upon information received he visited the farm of Martin Hanson, situated about ten miles east of Didsbury, and found the owner lying inside with his head partly blown away. Nearby was a shotgun with a piece of twine attached to the trigger. From this it is assumed the unfortunate man fired the gun with the toe of his boot.

Lying upon a table was a letter written by Hanson, dated Friday, April 13th, in which the writer expressed the determination to end his life, giving as his reason continued ill-health.

Dr. Hartman of Olds coroner for that district, acting in the absence of Dr. Clarke of Didsbury, visited the farm, and after making himself fully acquainted with the details, decided an inquest was unnecessary.

The farm, which is situated on the N.W. 21-31-28, was recently acquired by Hanson, who arrived a short time ago from Calgary to make arrangements for putting in a crop. Another purchase made by him was a small house in Didsbury, east of the track, which no doubt he intended for a town residence.

The body was removed to Calgary for interment following instructions given by a brother living at Airdrie.

The suicide, it is understood, was in his fifty-third year, and in addition to a father living in Sweden, has five brothers and sisters, two of the former living in Canada.

FISH & GAME ASSOCIATION ELECT OFFICERS.

Keen interest is still being maintained by Didsbury in the above Association, and at the general meeting held last night at the C.P.R. depot, there was a very fair attendance.

Election of officers resulted as follows:—Hon. President, A. B. Claypool, M.P. P. President, J. A. McGhee. 1st vice, W. H. Davies. 2nd vice, E. H. Sharman. Sec-treas, W. P. Cotton.

The executive will consist of the above officers and nine members—the town to be represented by Geo. Liesemer, C.F. Dooley, and Geo. Julien. Representing the west will be Wallace Hughes, James Hoesgood and Walter Herbert. The east has yet to be appointed.

The secretary was asked to get in touch with Jack Miner and obtain details of crow and magpie trap.

It was decided also to offer three prizes each to the east and west of town, to school children attending any public school, bringing in to the municipalities the greatest number of crow and magpie eggs and feet.

Those who have already joined the Association include:—W. H. Davies, E. H. Sharman, Frank Moyle, George Lunt, W. Derby, George Julien, A. R. Monroe, J. W. Phillipson, J. Flouty, M. Ford, Ivan Weber, Albert Myers, Floyd Ahlgren, Roger Barrett, W. G. Spence, R. E. Lantz, G. A. O'Brien, Geo. Liesemer, J. A. McGhee, C. F. Dooley, A. Kershaw, Hugh Ross, and A. F. Fritz.

Education and Religion

There is no subject in which the people of Western Canada take a deeper or more continuing interest than the subject of education. They demand the best for their children, and that they are prepared to pay for it is manifested by the splendid school buildings which are an outstanding feature in every Western city, town and village and in the steadily improving character of rural school houses, coupled with the generous financial provision made for the upkeep of the schools. Whatever complaint there may be in regard to the size of tax bills, the majority view is that, where pruning of expenditure is necessary, it must not be done at the expense of efficiency in education.

Demanding the best in education, there is much difference of opinion as to what constitutes the "best" and how it is to be attained. It is now generally accepted that the state owes to every child the rudiments of an education, and is responsible for seeing that each boy and girl receives it. Education must, therefore, be state aided, and the state which provides the money must supervise and control the educational system and be responsible for it. The vast majority of people today will not consent to that responsibility being delegated to any other authority.

People are, however, divided in opinion as to what should be taught in the schools. Roman Catholics hold tenaciously that a school without religion is godless and that character cannot be properly moulded or sound morals taught except through religious teaching, hence, as Father Ryan expresses it in "The Catholic World," "the Church cannot regard as satisfactory any system of education in which religion is not the foundation of the whole curriculum." Many Protestants, and an increasingly large number of them, agree. On the other hand, most Protestants insist that the state-aided schools shall be wholly secular, and that religious teaching is the duty of the Church, the Sunday schools and the home.

The educational systems of these Western Provinces are a compromise between these two opposing views in that they make provision for the establishment of minority separate schools and for the use of the last half-hour of the regular school day for religious instruction if the trustees so decide. This compromise feature is objected to by many, and the opinion is frequently voiced that what this country should have is the national school system of the United States.

A century ago, however, all religious sects in the United States, Protestant as well as Catholic, opposed the wholly secular public school, and insisted, as they had from the time of the Puritans, upon religious training in the schools. Now, after a century of secular public schools, the churches of the United States are taking stock of the situation and looking results squarely in the face. The general tenor of the complaint of the Protestant assemblies is "the comparative failure of the church's religious education," and that "neither the homes, nor the churches, nor the schools" provide an adequate religious training, and that "a solution must be found or disaster will befall both the Church and society." They recognize that the Sunday schools do not meet the need, because so small a proportion of the children attend, and the instruction for the most part is ineffective, because of lack of time, teacher preparation, and pupil interest. The problem confronting the Church is, therefore, one of combining religion with public education, Church and State working together for a great result neither can achieve alone.

What is happening? Nineteen of the principal Protestant bodies have formed the Council of Church Boards of Education for the purposes of carrying out a program of religious instruction during public school hours to supplement the regular curriculum. The plan is as follows: On the request of the parent, a child is assigned at fixed periods each week for the study of religion under a teacher designated by the parent. These teachers are appointed and supported by the sects, but their qualifications are to be the same as for other instructors. Likewise, the standard of work and the credit granted are determined as for other subjects. Where no legal bar prevents, classes have sometimes been held in the school buildings; otherwise, in rooms provided by the churches. Textbooks and study materials have been issued by the various denominational publishing houses.

Week-day religious instruction on public school time has been adopted in about eight hundred communities in over twenty States. In New York City, Catholics and Protestants have united to secure the arrangement there. Laws sanctioning this policy have been passed in Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio, Oregon and South Dakota, while court decisions in two States and official rulings in eight others have protected it. Even where legislation has been rejected, or no action taken, the plan is proceeding without interference.

This trend of thought and action in the United States, where a national secular public school system has so long prevailed, is of interest, and the above outline is presented solely for the information of Western people anxious to discover what is best for their children and calculated to build up a strong Christian country.

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion, very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Most Effective In Warding Off Diphtheria Says U.S. Doctor

The number of cases of diphtheria and deaths resulting therefrom have been reduced 60 per cent. in Pennsylvania in the last few years, says Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, at Harrisburg. This phenomenal decrease, Dr. Appel held, has been due almost entirely to the use of toxin-antitoxin.

"Nothing has been more definitely proven," Dr. Appel said, "than the power of toxin-antitoxin to ward off that most dreaded childhood disease—diphtheria."

Red Cross Celebration

Fifty-Eight Nations Will Celebrate Hundredth Birthday Of Founder Of Organization

On May 8, 1928, fifty-eight national organizations, banded together under the Red Cross flag, will celebrate the hundredth birthday of Henri Dunant founder of Red Cross and joint winner of the Nobel Peace prize.

In Toronto, the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society will signally honor the occasion by giving a banquet on April 25th to welcome the delegates attending the Annual Meeting of Central Council. A limited number of tickets are being sold outside of the membership, and it is expected that nationally known speakers, including the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, will attend and give the celebration speeches. Similar functions will also be held in every Canadian province.

It is fitting indeed that such a centenary should not go by unnoticed, for Dunant did much to promote the idea that suffering in war, the agony of the battlefield, could be largely mitigated.

It was while this great benefactor of humanity was travelling in Lombardy in 1859 that he saw 40,000 dead, dying, wounded and sick men lying on the Battlefield of Solferino, without anyone offering as much as a drink of water in kindly service. The sight of this so wrung his heart that he did not rest until an impromptu hospital was prepared in the nearby town of Castiglione, with a voluntary ambulance and nursing service in attendance. Thus he became known as the "Good Samaritan of Castiglione."

The sight of so much agony never left his mind and he wrote a brochure that was fraught with much significance to the world thereafter.

Dunant for several years travelled about Europe lecturing and giving his opinions regarding the treatment of soldiers in battle, pressing home the need for a reorganization of the medical services, for the rearrangement of plans for repatriating prisoners of war and caring for disabled men who had been broken in fighting for their country's cause. Out of Dunant's first idea grew the Conference at Geneva, which resulted in Red Cross being made law for the world. The first Treaty of Geneva was signed by twelve out of sixteen national delegates, the first Red Cross Society being formed in the German principality of Wurtemberg.

From that time the symbol of the Red Cross, which was originally adopted in honor of Switzerland, where the first treaty took place, be-

Great Britain adopted the Treaty of Geneva on February 18, 1865; Prussia joined June 22, 1865; Russia was linked up on July 5, 1865, and the United States on March 16, 1882. HAMILTON, CANADA

NET DEBT OF CANADA REDUCED BY 87 MILLIONS

Ottawa.—A decrease of $87,160,731 in the net debt of Canada during the fiscal year which closed on March 31 last is shown in the financial statement issued by the Department of Finance.

Until the department is in receipt of all the revenue collected in distant parts of the Dominion and until a number of obligations which properly come into last year's financing are met, the figures for the year cannot be regarded as complete, however.

Last year, the statement issued at the close of the fiscal year showed a decrease in the net debt of $61,429,500. The net debt as on March 31 last, according to the statement, was $2,260,673,585.

Ordinary revenues collected during the past fiscal year amounted to $410,144,559, or an increase of $26,233,356 over those of the previous year, the statement shows. Ordinary expenditure also recorded an increase amounting to $15,407,665, and stood at $306,708,741 on March 31 last.

Customs duties yielded revenue of $155,571,770 during the fiscal year just closed, as compared with $140,883,890 in the previous year.

Revenue from excise duties showed an increase of $8,827,037 over the 1926-27 figures.

There was a decrease of $14,194,964 in excise tax collections, which include the sales tax. The total amount collected was $97,046,220. Income tax collections recorded an increase of $9,260,270 over the 1926-27 revenues. The total amount collected in the year just closed was $56,547,570.

In the expenditure column, the big item was one of $120,780,973 for interest on public debt. This was over a million dollars less than in the previous year.

The amount expended for pensions during the year just closed was $36,195,853 against $34,533,661 in the previous year.

All-British Settlers For Western Provinces

Large Party Of Boys Were Among New Arrivals

Winnipeg.—Resembling more a large party of tourists from the Old Country with cameras and fishing outfits in solid leather cases hanging from their shoulders, some 400 new settlers from the British Isles arrived in Winnipeg last week over Canadian Pacific lines to take up agricultural work in the Western provinces.

The party, one of the largest all-British to arrive in the West for some time, were discharged at St. John from the S.S. Montcalm and proceeded here by special train.

Outstanding in the party was a group of 32 young British lads in their middle teens who were brought out to the Dominion under the auspices of the Agricultural Department of the Manitoba Government.

They were met on arrival at the Canadian Pacific Depot here by Prof. C. R. Hopper, member of the faculty, Manitoba Agricultural College, who is looking after newcomers of this type for the Government.

Fall Grains Winter Well

Come Through In Ontario Better Than Anticipated

Toronto.—Fall wheat, alfalfa and other clovers have come through the winter in Ontario in better condition than had been anticipated is the general consensus of opinion gleaned from reports received by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

While a little seedling has been done in the counties of Essex and Kent, very little, if any, has been attempted in other parts of the province. Plowing, however, is fairly general in many counties of Southern Ontario.

There is a general shortage of grain in nearly all parts of the province.

The demand for farm labor is keen, and particularly so for boys of 15 to 17 years of age who are being brought out by the Department of Colonization.

I.B.S. Broadcast Question

Matter Still Stands On Order Paper In House

Ottawa.—"Is the government considering refusing to continue the license of the broadcasting station CHCY, Edmonton (International Bible Students), and if so, for what reason?" asked H. E. Spencer (U.F.A., Battle River), in the House of Commons.

Hon. P. J. Cardin, minister of marine and fisheries, replied that he had already answered a similar question. In view of this fact, and also because he proposed later to make a statement on the matter, he thought the question might be dropped. Mr. Spencer objected and said he would prefer to have the question stand on the order paper.

J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg North Centre), declared that the minister had given no reason at all for refusing to renew these licenses. He failed to see why the minister should not answer the question. Mr. Speaker decided that the question would remain on the order paper.

Endorses Hudson's Bay Route

Canada Needs Another Outlet and Entrance, Says Noted Arctic Explorer

Montreal.—Favorable endorsement of the Hudson's Bay route was given here by Captain Joseph E. Bernier, noted Arctic explorer, in an address before a local service club. There was a problem on the horizon, he said, which Montreal and the Dominion as a whole would have to face in future years.

As the population of the country grew and the trade of Canada increased, the port of Montreal was bound to obtain a congested condition and then Canada must look to the Hudson's Bay to provide another entrance and outlet.

Coupled with this problem, he remarked that the waters of the St. Lawrence were receding and he felt that if the large liners were going to be able to dock at Montreal there must be a damming up of the waters of the river to maintain the necessary level.

Western Professors Honored

Recommended For Membership In The Royal Society Of Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—Councillors of the Royal Society of Canada in session here approved the awarding of the Flavell medal of the society for this year to Professor A. P. Coleman, of the University of Toronto, and of the Tyrell medal to Hon. Senator Thomas Chapais, of Ottawa. Professor Coleman was awarded the Flavell medal for his work in the interests of science, while Senator Chapais earned his award by his meritorious work in the interests of Canadian history.

It was reported to the council that the various sections of the society had recommended for election this year the following western Canada candidates for membership: Prof. D. C. Harvey, University of Manitoba; Prof. Robert H. Clark, University of British Columbia; Dr. Lloyd L. Dines, University of Saskatchewan; Prof. Stanley Smith, University of Alberta; Prof. Justin S. Delury, University of Saskatchewan.

Will Stay On the Job

Mayor Thompson Will Remain Chief Executive Of Chicago

Chicago.—Despite the fact that most of the candidates he had backed were defeated in the primary, Mayor William Hale Thompson will stay on as the city's chief executive for the next three years. He declared that he had no intention of resigning the post he was elected to last year.

"I positively will not resign," the mayor said. "Why should I? We captured the ward committees and we also got the sanitary district, so there's no reason for me to resign."

During the campaign the mayor had announced that if his favorite candidate, States' Attorney Robert E. Crowe, co-leader in the Republican faction, was defeated, he would seriously consider giving up the mayoralty.

Crowe lost the primary to Judge John A. Swanson, Deneen candidate by more than 100,000 votes.

Old Age Pensions

Discuss Arrangements For Applying Scheme In Saskatchewan

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. C. M. Hamilton, minister of agriculture in the Saskatchewan Government, and Hon. Peter Heenan, federal minister of labor, were in conference recently discussing arrangements for applying the old age pension scheme to the prairie province. Administration of the act is one of the functions of the labor department. Saskatchewan adopted the federal plan at the last session of the provincial legislature, enacting a measure that would become effective on proclamation. It is intimated that as soon as the necessary adjustments are made with respect to bringing the provincial and the federal legislation into conformity with each other, the prairie province will begin its old age pension payments.

Does Canada Lack Creative Art?

Assertion Is Made That Great Canadian Novel Is Yet To Be Written

Toronto.—That the great Canadian novel has not yet been written, that there is a dearth of creative effort in music, and that Canadian drama has still to come were assertions made by Fred Landon, M.A., of the University of Western Ontario, when addressing the opening session of the Ontario Library association here.

Dr. George H. Locke, of Toronto, stated that the British Library associations were likely to form a loose federation in London, which would be the centre of library activity for the United Kingdom. That the federation should become still greater and embrace the other nations of the empire was the speaker's suggestion.

Empire Singers Enthrall Canada

Singing a repertoire that includes over one hundred pieces of part-music, ranging through practically every style and taking in folk-songs of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and America, with both sacred and secular music, the Westminster Glee Singers are now engaged in a tour of Canada that will be a delight to music-lovers. They are singing in the Dominion under the patronage of His Excellency, the Governor-General of Canada, and have recently completed tours of Australia, New Zealand, the Straits Settlements, India and Ceylon, a record unequalled by any other musical organization. The singers are composed of male altos, tenors, basses and a number of boy sopranos who, like the men, are taken from the finest Cathedral choirs of Great Britain. They will give concerts in most of the cities of Canada from Halifax to Victoria and return. They are travelling for the most part on Canadian Pacific lines during their tour of the Dominion.

Protect Eastern Consumers

Will Make Public Price Of Alberta Coal At the Pit Mouth

Calgary.—That the new provincial coal standards board will act only in an advisory capacity and that the Government is desirous of having the price of Alberta coal at the pit mouth made public, were two important statements made by R. J. Dinning, a member of the new provincial board, at a meeting of coal operators held in Calgary to discuss the new $6.75 coal rates to Ontario.

Mr. Dinning also intimated that the onus of having the various coals placed on the "preferred" list would rest with the operators themselves.

The list he said, would be submitted to J. A. Ellis, fuel controller in Ontario, at the earliest possible date. The point was stressed by W. W. McBain, of Edmonton, the chairman, that because a rate of $6.75 had been Ontario market. He intimated that the battle had been won. They had merely won the first round.

It depended upon operators, working in conjunction with the Alberta Government, to win the rest of the Ontario market. He intimated that if the movement was to be a success it was absolutely necessary to safeguard the Ontario consumer in every possible way.

Canada's Autonomy

Canada's Representation On League A Good Thing For The World At Large

Montreal.—Canada's election to the council of the league of nations was international recognition of the Dominion's autonomous status, Sir Herbert B. Ames, former financial director of the league's secretariat, declared in an address here.

With this recognition of Canada's autonomy, Sir Herbert said, came the necessity for greater participation by Canadians in the responsibilities of the league. Canada, he added, had not been elected by any one group, but her candidature had been endorsed by states which had nothing to gain from her election, but which thought that Canadian representation on the council would be a good thing for the world at large.

For Trans-Atlantic Flight

Another Aviator Has His Mind Fixed On "America By Air"

Madrid.—Another aviator has his eye fixed on the goal of "America by air." He is Captain Reginald Folch Truelove, an English flier, formerly chief instructor at the Gosport airdrome in England, and later instructor of Spanish army aviators. He informed the Associated Press that he was preparing for a flight from the airdrome at Seville, Spain, to New York by way of the Azores some time in June. He has not yet selected an airplane, but intends to use a light machine.

Honors For Aviator

Washington, D.C.—A bill proposing to give the congressional medal of honor to Clarence D. Chamberlin for his non-stop flight from New York to Germany last summer was introduced in the senate by Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa.

EDUCATION IS VITAL FACTOR IN SOCIAL PROGRESS

Saskatoon.—"Which is it to be, education or jazz?" This was the question asked by J. W. Barnett, Edmonton, secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance, in an address before the Saskatchewan Teachers' Alliance. Mr. Barnett was brought to Saskatoon to be the chief speaker to the alliance, as Dr. G. M. Weir, University of British Columbia, was brought here to be chief speaker to the Saskatchewan Educational Association.

"Chicago," said Mr. Barnett, "with its huge proportion of jazz voters, swayed by unscrupulous political manipulators, has its Big Bill Thompson. What agency will make our polyglot western population a harmonious Canadian nation? We must face the fact, whether or not we like it, but we have just the same potentialities for political monstrosities and corruption in the western provinces as in Chicago; similar elements in the electorate—foreigners, illiterate and unaccustomed to freedom, to western Canadian ideals, to a discreet use of the ballot. Their lack of appreciation of Canadian institutions makes a fertile soil for the growth of mob rule."

"In Chicago voters by the thousands (whose desire and use of the ballot extends no further than putting a cross alongside names indicated by ring managers of a corrupt political circus), decide the situation. They outnumber the educated, better informed type of voter, those able to read, and write, and think in English, who are not so easily swayed by lurid denunciation, able to resist delusions, and of ready will to choose. The latter are too discouraged even to go to the polls."

"Education is no longer a luxury nor an accomplishment, it is a bitter necessity. The more instructed a population, the less liable are they to the delusion of enthusiasm and superstition, which among ignorant nations frequently occasions the most dreadful disorder."

"A democratic community, in order to be truly free, wise, self-governed, needs minds that are wise, self-governed. Lacking it, the national life is at the mercy of every catchword, machine boss, or brazen demagogue."

"We must face this question. Do the teachers really believe in education? Do they believe that making the world 'safe for democracy' is synonymous with 'educate the masses'? Do we believe education is the most profitable investment in the world today? Do we believe the country should provide an equal degree of educational opportunity for every child irrespective of social or endowment? Do we believe the school is the place to inculcate the spirit of goodwill the basis of world citizenship and world peace?"

"If these are mere confessions of the mouth rather than beliefs of the heart, then the sooner we cease talking about education and leadership in education the better—they are as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals."

World's Wheat Exhibition

Federal Government Approached For Assistance In Putting Over Ambitious Plan

Ottawa.—In preparation for the world's wheat exhibition which is to be held in Regina, Sask., in 1932, representatives of the various provincial governments gathered in the capital and interviewed Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, and Dr. J. H. Grisdale, his deputy, in regard to the assistance which may be expected from the federal government.

Dr. Grisdale intimated that nothing had been decided upon. There was no need for hasty action. Undoubtedly the federal government would do its share to make the exhibition a complete success.

The delegates seemed well satisfied with the progress made and went away happy.

Miss Viola Irene Cooper, who sailed the South Seas as a deck hand on a schooner, has returned to New York and will write a book about her experiences.

Just a Dream.

March winds and April showers
Bring forth May flowers.

This old couplet occurs to me as I look out of my office window and note the growth of my carragana. The soft dewy showers of the past few days have fallen like heaven upon the dried earth, and nature once more is announcing its annual resurrection. April has a habit of giving us one or two days, windless and cloudless, and of a tender lucidity: days which are like promissory notes issued by spring and certain to be honored.

A few weeks ago I was walking through the suburbs of our town and noted then the awakening. Pursuing the same course a few days ago I found that where I had left merely thickening twigs I found buds, and where I had left buds I found leaves. Should I not be forgiven if I had decided this was not a foretaste of spring, but the genuine article. If confirmation of this was required I only have to look across the street and note the progress already made in Jim Phillipson's rockery. There the green shoots erect their tender heads and give greeting to the warm April sunshine, whilst the crocus with its delicate petals and shy reserved demeanor adds an additional loveliness to the scene.

Even within mine own humble domain the grassy plot with its hedge of carragana gives an air of serenity and restfulness that is deeply appreciated by the passer-by.

If other evidence were needed, I might tell of my visit to the ball park and describe the notable victory achieved there by our local nine. There also, in tune with nature's awakening, were the ladies in lovely spring attire, the whole significant of a typical spring day. The grassy spaces, too, within the Agricultural Grounds were lively with children at play while the more reposeful and careless folk lay about as though it were mid-summer, and no such calamity as rheumatism had been invented.

Here, however, I suddenly awoke, stiff and cramped within my chair. The lights had already given their flicker of warning and the absence of warmth from my open fireplace betokened a chilly atmosphere, whilst the driving snow and a south-easterly wind shrieking around the corner of the building told me only too plainly that—

I slept, and dreamed that life was

Beauty;

I woke, and found that life was Duty.
Was my dream then a shadowy lie?
Toil on, poor heart, unceasingly;
And thou shalt find thy dream to be
A truth and noonday light to thee.

THRESHERS BOUND BY CONTRACT TO THRESH ENTIRE CROP

At the conclusion of the trial of the action of John Klein, thresher, against H. J. Sanderson, farmer, both of Champion, Alta., Mr. Justice Ford gave judgment, dismissing the plaintiff's claim for the sum of $624.50 and allowed the defendant's counterclaim for damages, to the extent of $10 with costs throughout to the defendant.

In the fall of 1927 Sanderson engaged Klein to thresh his crop of grain amounting approximately to 600 acres. When about half of the crop was threshed a heavy snowfall came which prevented completion of the job at that time. The defendant Sanderson paid Klein on account of the threshing actually done the sum of $1,000, and refused to pay the balance, $624.50, until Klein undertook to return and finish the job this spring. Klein refused to give any definite assurance of returning and sued Sanderson for the $624.50.

Sanderson resisted payment on the ground that Klein's contract called for the threshing of the whole crop and that as Klein refused to return, this constituted a breach, which entitled Sanderson to put an end to the contract and pleaded that this absolved him from paying any sum then owing to Klein.

Mr. Justice Ford pointed out in his judgment that threshers must be bound by these contracts, and found that the defendant Sanderson was justified in refusing to pay Klein the amount claimed, and gave judgment as above mentioned.

J. Fred Scott acted for the plaintiff; H. G. Nolan, of Bennett, Hannah and Sanford, for the defendant, Sanderson.

The forest supplies work for thousands of men—in the woods and the mills and the wood-working and paper-making factories. These men support families and schools, churches, stores, factories, villages, towns and cities. Forest industries rank second in importance only to agriculture. They provide a big market for farm products. Think twice before you light the match; think twice again before you throw it away. Your camp fire may burn itself out. But don't let it go at that. Put it out with water. Don't leave it until it is dead. To save the 27% of our forests that remains means continued prosperity. It means hard times and unemployment if we go on burning our forests

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot speak too highly of it as I was at the Change of Life and was all run-down and had no appetite. I was very weak and sick, and the pains in my back were so bad I could hardly move. I got very sad at times and thought I had not a friend on earth. I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not go out very much. A friend advised me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. I am a farmer's wife, and always worked hard until lately, and was in bed for two months. I began to feel like a new woman after the first bottle and I recommend it with great success, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about your medicines, as I cannot speak too highly of them."—Mrs. Emma Wilson, 471 Wilson Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

Small Town Papers

BY FRANK PARKER STOCKBRIDGE
Reprinted by special permission from Saturday Evening Post. Copyright 1928, by the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

"I tell you what, you skeptical old type louse," he continued, looking at his wrist watch and slapping me on the back, "I'm in town for a meeting of the executive committee of our editorial association to make arrangements for our convention next summer. If you really want to know what the country newspaper is like in this year of grace, come on along with me to the hotel. We haven't any secrets and you can speak the language of the craft well enough to pass for one of us. You'll meet some good fellows, live newspapermen, from the small towns all over the country, and they'll tell you better stories than I can. Can you spare the time? I'd love to have you come."

"I've time enough," I told him, "but I don't like to butt in."

"Butt in, my eye!" said Bert. "You used to be my boss, you know, and I want to show the other chaps the guy who taught me the beginnings of journalism. They'll be tickled to meet you. Besides, if you don't hear what they have to say I know what'll happen. You'll go round to the newspaper club and tell the old-timers whom I used to know what a liar Bert Mills has turned out to be. Come on!"

I went. And I found out that that novelist's idea of making a living out of a couple of country newspapers wasn't so funny as it had seemed to me. Things have changed in the small towns; and, as the saying goes, how!

It didn't take long, after Bert had introduced me all around, to discover that the thirty or forty country editors in the crowd were immensely proud of their profession, their papers and their home towns. That was the most noticeable difference between them and the sort of country editor I had known in my youth. The old-time country editor had plenty of professional pride, but if he was proud of his town, the feeling was not often reciprocated. These were men of standing in their communities; you could tell that by the way they talked and carried themselves.

"The successful country newspaper publisher today is no longer primarily a printer," is the way one of them explained it to me. "You notice that I said publisher. That means that he is a business man. He may or may not be also an editor or a printer, or both, but the emphasis is on the business end. Most of us are our own editors as well as publishers, and there are still a good many who began as printers and will always be printers at heart. But publishing a country paper of today is definitely a business, and a very profitable business."

There were country publishers from every part of the United States at this meeting, as well as representatives of business concerns having merchandise to sell to country papers. Between listening to the discussions in the committee and the conversation around the luncheon table, where Bert Mills brought a dozen other good fellows together, I discovered that my former ideas about country papers were based upon conditions which are as extinct as the passenger pigeon.

Much of the picturesqueness and glamour which surrounded the old-time country editor and his shop have disappeared, to be replaced by modern efficiency. There are still occasional pioneers, penetrating into new fields with the vanguard of civilization, to set up their presses and preempt the field in advance of population; but these are rare instances on the few remaining frontiers, and even in such cases, subscribers, advertisers and profits follow faster than B. Franklin Simms, my old boss, ever dreamed of.

A California editor told us of a man in his own state, F. L. Drexler, who took a pioneering chance less than five years ago.

"I don't know how much capital he had," said the California man, "but it wasn't much. He bought a little paper, the Free Press, at Riverdale. Riverdale has a census population of 264; it's just a wide place in the road. After Drexler had made his first payment he had just $150 left, he told me. But he made the paper pay, and since then he started two others, each in a village of less than 250 people. I don't know what he's worth, but he's always paid his bills and wages promptly, kept his children in the best schools, own two automobiles and two printing plants, all paid for, besides some real estate, and has a cash surplus in the bank."

A Florida delegate matched that with the story of Howard Sharp's Everglades News.

"I don't think there are as many as 250 people in the town of Canal Point, on Lake Okechobee, where Sharp started the News a few years ago," he said; "but today the News has about 1500 circulation, which is higher than the national average of country weeklies, and it covers its local field exclusively and intensively. Anybody who wants to know what is happening in Washington or Russia, or whether Lindbergh made another flight yesterday, can subscribe to some city daily; but the city daily can't give the space to tell how many acres of muck land each farmer in Everglades has under cultivation, how many cars of beans were shipped during the week, and the rest of the intimate, personal, local news, which is what the people living there really want to know."

That is the secret of the success of the country newspaper, just as it always has been—the ability to give its readers news about themselves which the city paper, no matter how near by it may be published, cannot possibly give them. Instead of trying to compete with the daily papers, the country editors of today are leaving the fields of national and international news to the dailies—even state news to a large extent—and concentrating on the news of their own counties or circulation territory. The country weekly in the old days had to print a good deal of general news because its readers were out of range of the dailies. Now the dailies penetrate everywhere, but, paradoxically the country newspapers are more flourishing than ever before.

In Greenfield, Massachusetts, for example, a town of 15,000, there is a substantial daily paper; but there is also the Greenfield Gazette, which has been published as a weekly for 135 years. The Gazette has forty correspondents, one in every town in Franklin County, two in some towns, and there isn't a farmer in the territory who can paint his barn or buy a new silver without the news of it getting into the Gazette. The result is a circulation above 5,000.

GREAT HELP TO YOUNG MOTHERS

Baby's Own Tablets Have Many Uses and Are Absolutely Harmless

To have in the house a simple, harmless remedy for the minor ills of babies and little children is a great boon to young mothers, and this is exactly why Baby's Own Tablets have been found in thousands of households. The Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and simple fevers, allay the irritation of cutting teeth, yet they have no drug taste and the children like them.

Concerning the Tablets Mrs. Ruthven Crommiller, Ruthven, Ont., writes:—"Kindly send me your little book on the Care of the Baby. I have two children, one four years of age and the other a year and a half. Both are in excellent health and the only medicine they have had is Baby's Own Tablets. I always keep the Tablets in the house and am happy to recommend them to other mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

JESUS AND THE HOME

Golden Text: "Honor thy father and thy mother" (which is the first commandment with promise). — Ephesians 6:2.

Lesson: Mark 10:1-8.

Devotional Reading: Ephesians 6:1-9.

Explanations and Comments

The Teaching Of Jesus About Divorce, verses 2-9.—Pharisees came to Jesus and in an effort, not to obtain instruction, but to entangle Him, put to Him this much-disputed question: "Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife?" As later in their question about the tribute money, so here they thought that whichever way He answered they would have a case against Him. If He said "Yes," He would offend the Jews who believed in the teaching of Rabbi Jochanan, who said, "The putting away of a wife is odious"; if He said "No," he would be opposing the teaching of many rabbis, and would offend Herodias (for Herod had put away his own wife and married Herodias), the wife of his brother, while the latter was still living, and her fury might cause Him to share the fate of John the Baptist.

As was His frequent custom Jesus referred them to their law: "What did Moses command you?" He questioned, "Moses suffered to write a bill of divorce, and to put her away," they replied.

"You threaten the very life of the Nation when you relax the ties of marriage and weaken the family bond. There is nothing we want more than a new grasp of our Lord's teaching—that there is but one moral law, and that law the same for man and woman. The sacredness of marriage ought to be a subject upon which we have no doubts. On this point it is well not to have an open, but a closed and settled mind. Let no specious and plausible talk about 'unhappy marriages' unsettle that conviction. The remedy for 'unhappy marriages' is not greater facility for divorce, but increased thought and seriousness in the contraction of marriage. Laxity in this will mean rottenness sweeping in like a flood. It is ours to maintain and assert the more austere and exacting view of Christ. Marriage is an ordinance of God. It is meant for the perfecting of character. It is essentially and ideally permanent and indissoluble."—J. D. Jones.

The Oil Of Power.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

Dr. Symond felt very stern about all this as he stood looking at Helmi. "Where is your husband?" he asked. His tone implied that he suspected foul play. She had probably murdered him and concealed the body. Dr. Symond's manner warned Helmi that it would be better for her to tell the truth. Roused from her dream, she stared at him with a frightened face. "You must answer me," said the doctor, sternly. His manner was patient but firm.

Helmi did not know where to begin. How could she tell this man her fears?

Maggie Corbett came to the rescue. "She has not the best English, Doctor, but I make out her man joined up early in the war and she got afraid and came in. It is all right, Doctor, she's married, safe and sound; she has the ring on her finger and has a valise full of nice things for the little one, and she's not a charity case, Doctor, at all. She has money to pay her way."

The doctor grew more cheerful. "That is fine, Mrs. Corbett," he said. "You see, I get so many cases where these foreign girls think they are married. Some fellow shows them a paper which he says is a license, and away they go with him. They have great respect for a paper, especially if it has a red seal on it. But almost everything will do—a tax notice or a water bill—even an unpaid one." Dr. Symond was quite cheerful now. Then he grew more serious. "I tell you, Mrs. Corbett, it is disgusting how easy these girls are!"

"Sure enough," said Mrs. Corbett. "easy is right. Ain't nature wonderful, doctor? Don't it beat all how she puts it over on us?"

"I tell you, Mrs. Corbett," went on the doctor, not wishing to discuss this angle of it, "if the women of this city who meet in their local councils and women's institutes and a lot of these other organizations they are spending so much time on, would make it their business to get in touch with every foreign girl and warn her of these things—well, I wouldn't have so much to do; neither would the Superintendent of Neglected Children—and there would not be Peterboro, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was very beneficial to me. I had become all rundown, tired, weak and miserable, had no appetite and my nerves were all upset. I saw the 'Prescription' advertised as being helpful to prospective mothers so I decided to try it. It built me up, quieted my nerves, gave me an appetite and I got along fine the remainder of the time—was able to do all my own work. I had comparatively no suffering, and my baby was very strong and healthy."—Mrs. Lottie Murray, 301 Townsend St.

so much congestion at the Children's Shelter."

"You are right again, Doctor," said Mrs. Corbett, amiably, "and did it ever strike you that it might be grand work for the Rotary Club and Kiwanthans and such like to say a word to the men? They're doin' a fine work, buildin' Homes for these little ones, but maybe if they worked a little harder on the men they would have less need for Homes. But I see what you mean, Doctor, and I know it's a grand thing to always be able to lay all the blame on the women. You see the Lord lets her bear all the pain, and we see to it that she gets all the shame; so why not let the rest of the women bear the blame—there's no use spreadin' it any further."

"You misunderstand me, Mrs. Corbett," said the doctor, quickly. "I have the utmost sympathy for these unfortunate girls, and that is why I would like the women to do something. Indeed, I spoke to the Local Council about it when they asked me to address them."

"That was fine and good of you, Doctor," commended Mrs. Corbett. "I'm a good hand at givin' advice, too. Don't it make a person feel grand to give out a good gob of advice; and then if anyone does go to the devil we can say, 'I warned you, anyway—you can't say I didn't. But take the tip I gave you now, Doctor, get busy on the men. Leave the women to women—it's women who look after women, anyway.'"

The doctor interposed: "Now, Mrs. Corbett, I cannot agree with you there. You must have noticed that women are very hard on women." He was pulling on his gloves now, rubbing out the wrinkles carefully.

"No, I haven't noticed it, but I've heard it—I've heard a lot of men say it."

"Now, Mrs. Corbett, I see you are a great cynic, and I would not have thought that of you," Dr. Symond said, laughingly, as he shook hands with her.

"Don't let me keep you, Doctor," she replied, "and it Christmas and all."

When he was gone Helmi opened her eyes. "I can speak English," she said, lifting her head from the pillow. "I heard what he said. Did you give me the ring to wear?"

"Just so," said Mrs. Corbett, "and it's grand that you can speak so well. Swede girl, are you?"

"No, Finn," said Helmi, "two years in Canada. Do you know anything about me? You said my man had joined up—do you know anything about him?"

"Not a word, but you'll tell me when you feel like it," said Mrs. Corbett encouragingly.

Helmi regarded her friend gratefully. "You were good to me just now to say things for me and put the ring on my hand. I could not tell him when he asked me—he made me want to die."

"Sure Mike, I know, he's a good little man in his own way, but it's none of his business. He may be sure no woman goes knockin' round the country without her man at a time like this for the fun of it. Oh, well, you don't need to confess to him, or anyone for that matter, but only to God Himself."

"God don't care," said Helmi bitterly. "I pray and pray but God never hears!"

"Save us all!" cried Mrs. Corbett. "That's an awful way to talk about God, who is more anxious to do right by us than we are to let Him."

"Are you a Christian?" asked Helmi.

"My gracious, how do you think I could ever run a Rooming House if I wasn't and keep from committin' murder. If the love of God hadn't been shed abroad in my heart why do you think I would butt in and tell lies for you?"

"Is it always wrong to tell lies, even kind, good lies like yours? Will God be mad with you for telling a lie for me?" Helmi was afraid her good friend might get into serious difficulties over her.

Mrs. Corbett threw out her hands and laughed. "No fear! God ain't as touchy as lots of people try to make out. It isn't as if I lied to be mean or to hurt someone, and I'll tell you how I've got it sized up. It's a sort of treat for Him to hear someone lie for a woman instead of to her, or about her if you can get what I mean."

Helmi nodded.

"Don't be talkin' now, for tomorrow is the third day, and then's the time for the fever, if it is comin' at all. Rosie is bringin' your hot milk, and Mrs. Kalinski has your supper cookin' on her stove, and I must be runnin' now to see how the wee lamb is. She's done nothin' but sleep yet, and that's the best thing she can do with the long road of life ahead of her."

CHAPTER XXIII.

Helmi stayed on in Number 18, taking her meals with the Corbetts, and trying to pay for their kindness by cleaning up their congested suite and making clothes for Rosie and Danny, who had become the baby's devoted attendants. Mrs. Corbett was full of encouragement when she heard Helmi's whole story.

"Your man has been delayed, that's all. Sure he'll come—never say die, Helmi, dear—and just think of how pleased he will be to find this fine little girl, the very picture of himself, with her lovely dark eyes. She must be the spittin' image of him, for she's not a bit like you. But looks don't matter so long as you are healthy, and a better child I never saw."

Encouraged by Mrs. Corbett's confidence, Helmi, as soon as she was able, began to go to the station on the two nights of the week the Peace River train came in, sitting huddled on a seat that commanded a view of the big moon-faced clock. Although due to arrive at four in the afternoon, it was often past midnight before the train drew in.

The station agent began to notice the pale girl with the big eyes who came each train night and who seemed so anxious.

was met by his iron gray old man was met by his iron gray old wife, who looked so much like him she might have been his sister. Helmi watched them, noting their fervent kiss, their light steps as they walked happily away arm in arm, both talking. Helmi saw it all, and somehow it comforted her to know that some had found happiness in life, even if it had apparently passed her by.

"Fight the good fight of faith; lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called."—Timothy vi. 12.

Great duties are before me and great songs;
And whether crowned or crownless when I fall
It matters not, so as God's work is done.—Alexander Smith.

The true hero is the great wise man of duty; he whose soul is armed by truth, and supported by the smile of God; he who meets life's perils with a cautious but tranquil spirit, gathers strength by facing its storms, and dies, if he is called to die, as a Christian victor, at the post of duty.

NEW BLOOD NEEDED
IN THE SPRING TIME

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills As a Blood Improving, Health-Restoring Tonic

Every man, woman and child needs new, rich, red blood at this time of the year. That is a scientific fact. All doctors know it. The blood grows thin and poor in the winter; there is not enough of it, and spring shows the effect. Take notice and see how many people are pale and sallow at this time of the year. They complain of being easily tired, their appetite is poor, and they are often depressed and low-spirited. That is Mother Nature urging them to improve their blood supply; but often their digestion is weakened so that they cannot turn food into blood without help. Here is where modern medical science comes to the rescue. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a direct action on the blood and enable you to get full use of the blood-making elements in your meals. You soon feel their effect—your appetite improves, your nerves are steadier, color returns to the cheeks and lips, you have more vim and energy, and can work with less fatigue.

The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who are in what is known as a run-down condition of health is proved by the experience of Mr. John A. O'Neil, Port Hood, N.S., who says:—"It is not possible for me to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly. I had been gradually growing weaker, and found it hard to do my work. I suffered from severe headaches and pains in the back. I was nervous and easily irritated, and altogether my condition was deplorable. A friend urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a half dozen boxes. I had only taken them a short time when I found them helping me, and by the time I had taken the supply I got, I was again enjoying good health. Headaches and pains had disappeared, my nerves were strengthened and I had good reason to be thankful that I had followed the advice of my friend."

Whether you are seriously ill or merely feel easily tired and out-of-sorts, you should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring. They are sold by medicine dealers everywhere, or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Wrigley Swimming Marathon Trophy is a perpetual trophy to be competed for each year. The first Wrigley Marathon was held off Catalina Island, and won by George Young, of Toronto. The second Wrigley Marathon was held at Toronto and was won by Ernst Vierkoetter, of Berlin, Germany. The third Wrigley Marathon will be held in 1928, either in Canada or the United States. The Wrigley Trophy is a reproduction in sterling silver of the famous "Flying Mercury" modeled by Giovanni da Bologna. The position of the figure is changed to show Mercury presenting to Father Neptune a wreath. Neptune with his trident, dolphins and water surrounding are in bronze. The figure Mercury contains over 1,000 ounces of silver. In addition to the big trophy there will be provided annually a replica in sterling silver and bronze, to be presented to the city where the Marathon is held.

Church Announcements

Evangelical Notes

Quite a number of our most regular attendants at church were greatly missed last Sunday on account of being on the sick list, among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. Hehn, Mr. H. Reiber, Mr. E.
Reider, Miss S. Duncan, and little Arnold Boettger.

Representatives of the Westcott and Sunnyslope young people will have charge of the monthly League program here on Sunday evening, April 29th.
Good things are expected.

The annual business meeting for this year will be held on Tuesday evening, May 1st. A suitable program of a musical and historical nature is being planned for this occasion. This will be followed by a business period, open for all, when a full and complete report of the year's work will be heard from each department of the church. All the departmental treasurers should get their books ready for the auditors before that date.

Rev. A. E. Hayes, B.A., Minister.

Sunday, April 22nd.
11 a.m. Community Hall,
3 p.m. Lone Pine.
7:30 p.m. Didsbury

The minister is taking for his theme
"What I mean by Religion." The subject does not deal with creeds or church membership, but it has to do with the spiritual side of one's nature. Seventy leading professional and business men claimed they had praying mothers and fathers. What had this to do with their success? What these parents put on their children's backs didn't count. It was what they put into their minds and hearts. The minister will deal with the greatest factor in achievement.

Burnside

The Lone Pine W.I. met in the Hall, on last Thursday and held a very jolly meeting with the Hall
Board as guests of honor. Mrs.
Charles Mardon gave a splendid paper on "Immigration" which was followed by a spirited discussion. The next meeting on May 10th will be at the home of Mrs.
W. C. Ahlgrim and Mrs. Wm.
Lyons will give a paper on Legislation. Plans will also be made for the annual W.I. picnic and dance on May 24th.

Messrs. Joe Clark and Ernest Simmons spent the week-end in Calgary.

Burnside U.F.A. met in the Lone Pine Hall last Monday evening. There was a good attendance and many matters of importance were discussed. It was decided to send one of the younger members of the Community to the University Farm Week at Edmonton.
We are also inviting Mr. H. E. G.
H. Schofield, Vice-Pres. of the U.
F.A., to be present and address a meeting with a view to organizing a Junior Local in the near future.
The date will be announced later.

Messrs. Herman Ohlsen and Wm. Lyons spent Sunday out near Three Hills.

BERGEN-NICHE VALLEY

Chas. Erickson finished sawing lumber last Monday. He sawed a total of 200,000 feet.

Mr. Melvin Geiger, a promising young student of the Mountain View Bible College, and a resident of Al-sask, Sask., is stationed for the year at Bergent. He delivered a good sermon on Easter Sunday, text being from I. Peter 1-3-7.

Wendell Gochee was hurt at Ste-ven's mill on Tuesday. A 14-foot 6-inch plank in some manner was caught in the large saw and thrown with such force as to almost break his leg. He was taken to the Didsbury hospital by his brother Wayne.

Mrs. Lutkehouse has been working at the camp for a few days, as Ben and George were there busy with sawing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davidson returned from Scotland after a three months' visit. They report having had an enjoyable time. Mrs. David-

RADIO WAVES BLAMED FOR STORMS

Radio waves are increasing the violence of storms on land and sea, declared Captain W. H. Parker, of the White Star liner Homeric, which arrived 24 hours late at New York Thursday after a buffeting from 40-foot waves which broke three windows on the promenade deck.

The atmosphere of the world, he contended, has been so disturbed and upset by wireless electrical waves that clouds have been precipitated as rain with resulting strong winds. He declared there was no precedent for the continuous storms on the ocean, the snows in Egypt, and the cold along the Riviera.

He pointed out that March 7 was the coldest day of that date in Cairo and the hottest ever reached in London. As radio activity increases the storms will increase in violence, he said.
